IB at NWSS

The IB Diploma Programme at NWSS is an internationally-minded academic program ideal for motivated students who love a challenge and have aspirations for university.

At NWSS we believe in 'IB for All' and we are very excited to offer a range of courses that will offer pathways to an IB Diploma for students of varied interests in the sciences and humanities.

Universities recognize how well the IB Diploma Programme prepares students for university and provide favourable admissions policies for IB students. In June 2022, IB published a study carried out with UBC and U of T that found IB students are more prepared for post-secondary, achieve higher grades in university courses, and are far more likely to complete their degrees, participate in coop programs, and win awards.
